NY exhibit shows off Pinoy designers

FIVE young Filipino designers will show their creations in a two-week exhibit, organized by Rene M. Tiongco at the Philippine Center, Fifth ave., New York City, from September 28 to October 9.

Contemporary designs using local fabrics like jusi, sinamay, piña, hablon and abel Iloco will be showcased, with the special participation of designer Edgar Allan, who will present a wedding gown in crushed jusi.

Earth tones

The talented designers: Sidney Ecula, 23, utilizes locally produced fabrics from Iloilo. His NY collection will be in basic colors and earth tones. Pamela Villapando, 26, who sells casual clothes online under the brand, Wheat, is inspired by peacock feathers. She specializes in modern cuts, with touches of Filipino embroidery and calado.

Athena Colico-Tandoc, 35, creates made-to-order clothes for the Makati market. Alyssa Buendia, 21, does beadwork accessories and likes her garments feminine and flowing. The angel fish and underwater corals are her inspirations for the NY show. Huse Mara, 19, loves androgenous but functional fashion. His collection uses migration as theme. ■
